UNIONTOWN ELOPERS

Two Young People Who Took the Bit in Their Own Hapds.

PARENTAL SURVEILLANCE IN VAIN

Mr. Mahaney, After a Long Siege, Wins Miss Hadden.

SHE IS ONE OF AN ELOPING FAMILY

Among the crowd of pedestrians which beaded in the direction of the Baltimore and Ohio terminus, not many minutes before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, could be discovered a young lady and gentleman. There was nothing in the appearance of the couple which should single them out for remark, beyond that the young man was more than specially careful in steering his fair companion clear of bibulous estimens or obstreperous ustics; but for all that a halo of romance perched over their heads.

If "Love laughs at locksmiths" it is equally true that it treats with supreme disdain the opposition of parental authority and the warnings of maternal misgivings. And so it did in the case of two loving bearts—which now best as one—and the ex-clusive proprietors of which are well-known charles D. Mahaney wooed and won the beart of Miss Elma Hadden, a young lady who is highly esteemed in Uniontown social circles, but the aforementioned parental authority filed a protest against suggestions of ony, and the young pair, in consequence, thought it wise to dissemble.

LOCHINVAR IN A BUGGY. Dissembling is all very well as far as it goes, and especially in such a good cause, but it is liable, at length, to become monot-onous. So, at least, the young Lochinvar found it and be began to lay plans to inter-rupt the enforced screnity of the situation. The course of true love never did run smooth, but on this occasion it made a departure, and on Sunday afternoon, repre-sented in the persons of the loving pair, it bestowed itself in buggy drawn by a spank-ing team, and was soon embarked on board the mail at Connellsville and traveling over made it possible for two hearts to perform the anatomical impossibility of beating as one, and soon afterward the register of the Central Hotel bore witness to the fact that Charles D. Mahaney and wife were among the guests of that well-known hostelry. BACK TO UNIONTOWN.

It was the intention of the young couple to return to their respective domiciles and carry on the dissembling act for another while or two, enabling the parental position to be approached by sap and mine and be-sieged nutil obliged to surrender. But, las! for the well-intentioned plans of the selopers, a reporter for this paper was accounted by Mr. John Laidley, who untolded the little romance. Mr. Mahaney was congratulated by The DISPATCH man on the success of his matrimontal venture and informed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed the formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed the formed that it was with much regret that he formed the formed that it was with much regret that he formed that it was with much regret that he formed the formed the little romance. Mr. Mahaney was congratulated by The DISPATCH man on the river by the Seventh street bridge, and then made straight for St. Michael's Home on the fill, above South Eighteenth street.

AMERICUS' NEW QUARTERS.

Some Circulars Sent Out Have Eveked Respanses to the Time of $68,000-The Amount Necessary Said to be in Sight.

The scheme of the Americus Club to issue 4 per cent bonds for the erection of a clubouse is meeting with success, so far as it has gone. Circulars were sent out two or three days ago asking the members of the club if they favored the plan, and if so, how much money they would be willing to place at the disposal of the club for that purpose.

At 1 o'clock yesterday 25 members had responded to the circular and amounts aggating $68,000 had been pledged. When t is considered that the committee wants but $105,000, it is evident that the members deem the scheme a pretty safe investment.
The club has an option on the Hamilton Hotel for 30 days, dating from the 18th inst., and there seems to be no doubt that the necessary amount will be pledged by the time the option must be covered.

Although the idea of building a club-house has been talked of for over a year by the members, there has as yet been no definite plan decided upon. It was only at the last meeting of the club that the Building Committee was appointed. This com-mittee consists of A. G. Roenigk, H. D. W. English and Harry A. Paul. If the Hamlars will be spent in remodeling and improving the house to meet the requirements of the club. Some trouble may be experienced in securing the hotel property, as it was reported yesterday that the deed was reported yesterday that the deed was held by about a score of heirs.

To-day the committee will call on the prominent members of the club who have t yet responded to the circular with a view, if possible, to raise the amount to the required sum at once. There is little doubt that this will be accomplished, as the realready in have been extremely

JUST after Christmas of 1870, I was laid up with an obstinate cough, together with spitting of blood, accompanied with some fever—from the joint effects of which I was greatly weakened and became rapidly reduced. Following the best advice I could get, I tried various medicines, but none ap-parently done much good, leaving me low spirited enough. I made up my mind at ast to try Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, and procured some. I used it carefully as di-rected, and gradually got rid of my com-plaint.—Wm. A. C. Pyle, Tamaron, Perry

LATES THROUGH THE TWO CITIES. A Daylight Tour of the Merry Monarch of Gift-Glving-Institutions Visited and Londs Lightened, with the Same Effect Upon Javenile Rearts-As Annual Custom Carried Out Lavishly.

"Christmas comes but once a year, and when it comes it brings good cheer." This is a true adage. No day in the year is so potent or so full of pure and immaculate cheer as Christmas. It is a time when the cheer as Christmas. It is a time when the hearts of the young bound with all the buoyancy of the antier, and the old catch the song of by-gone days and live again in the atmosphere of youth. How happy everybody felt yesterday. Feast, feativity and joy chased every gloomy feeling away, and the world was transmuted from cold, mathematical ways by the magic touch of hospitality into a better and grander sphere. Where penury reigned, some unknown but generous spirit stealthily made its way into its haunts, and set it at defiance by leaving some welcome gift. defiance by leaving some welcome gift.

CHILDREN ON THE QUI VIVE. For months the children have been anticipating the advent of Yuletide. It has provided them with an inexaustible store of conversation. They have longed for it, be-cause they know that papa and mamma will remember them at Christmas by con-tributing to their earthly store a little token. But how about the children who have no "papa and mamma." Is anybody going to remember them? Look in at the orphan remember them? Look in at the orphan asylum? Here you will see the fatherless and the motherless. Who will remember them at Christmas time? Will anybody? Did anybody? Yes! Gusky'a, generous to a fault, carried sround to the various hospitals and asylums 2,000 gifts, which were principally distributed among the little folks. Ah, yes, Sauta Claus remembered them. Robed in all his mystic raiment, followed by a retinue of servants, who dispensed the good things which his bounteous hand had provided, he visited all the benevolent institutions of the two cities.

welcomed the little ones with the same gusto that they greeted him. A wagon load of gifts were taken in, and they were given away among the inmates. No boy or girl was lett without a gift. Gusky's had each present Butter crackers, per pound only....

After distributing the presents at Ridge avenue, the procession was divided, one-half taking Allegheny and the other half taking the Pittsburg division, which included the Southside for med that it was with much regret that he could not afford the Uniontown journals the pleasure of outstripping this paper on the story.

The gentleman who is responsible for the story said that about three years ago Mrs. Charles D. Mahaney's family moved down to Atabama, for the purpose of, if possible, breaking the ties of sympathy which existed the sympathy that the sympathy is sympathy to sympathy the sympathy that the sympathy is sympathy to sympathy the sympathy that the sympathy that the sympathy the sympathy that the sympathy the sympathy that the sympat

Luncheon was served to the narty by the Board of Managers of St. Michael's Home. It was no mean spread, either. Everything was provided which would add pleasure to the occasion. A speech expressive of the gratitude of the institution to Mrs. Gusky was delivered by Mr. Andrew The Homeopathic Hospital was the next visited, where 29 gifts were given to the little ones. The next stop was made at the Chil-dren's Temporary Home, where 20 childish hearts were gladdened by the same number of gifts. What clapping of hands there was when the presents were handed around, Looking into the face of a little one at this home it was a sight. The boy's whole couptenance was suffused by a radiant smile, his eye sparkled with a glitter more dazzling than a diamond. One look of gratitude from those eyes repaid Gusky's for their trouble and big outlay, because it was the expression of absolute thankfulness. OTHER PLACES VISITED.

Visits were then paid to St. Paul's Orphan Asylum. Three hundred and fifty gifts were donated to this institution; 20 were given to the West Penn Hospital, 51 to the Episcopal Home, and 138 to the Lit-tle Sisters of the Poor. At this latter place the presents were of a serviceable character.

The Allegheny contingent went through a similar procedure to the Pittaburg division. The following benevolent institutions the Poor, 73, and the German Protestant Orphan Asylum, 21, HOSPITABLY RECEIVED. The most notable episode in the Alle-gheny distribution of gifts was at the Home of the Good Shepherd, Troy Hill. After the distribution of gifts the Sisters served a royal feast to the donors.

At the Little Sisters of the Poor one old woman, named Mrs. Katie Hawkins, who had received a gift from Gusky's for the past seven years, and was anticipating the day again, did not answer to her hame when Mr. Solomon asked for her. She was beyond earthly sound, having passed to her long home the day previous. This circum-stance was the only one to cast a shadow on the day's proceedings.

A MARVELOUS DISCOVERY.

Dr. Wilford Hall's Health Pamphlet, Recently Issued, Unfolds a Common-Sonse Hygienic Treatment, by Which Disease in Almost Any Ferm, is Conquered and Sickness Avolded.

Sickness Avoided.

The wonderfully effective treatment (so frequently referred to of late years in the "Microcosm"), discovered by Dr. A. Wilford Hall, is now offered to suffering humanity in the shape of a confidential health pamphlet, fully unfolding the treatment in a manner so clear as to be easily understood. One careful perusal of the Health Pamphlet will convince any reasonable person of the solid logic and sound reasoning of Dr. Hall, and the regular application of the treatment will conquer the most stubborn cases of piles, constipation, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, liver complaints, headaches, heart disease, incipient consumption, diabetes, Bright's disease of the kidneys, theumatism, fevers, inflammation of lungs or other internal organs—not by attacking those and other kindred diseases directly, but by radically neutralising and removing their causes, thus allowing nature herself (the true healer) to do her work unimpeded.

When once secured it lasts a life-time, saving many doctor bills; not only curing disease but inducing health and longevity by fortifying the system against the possibility of contracting sickness.

Dr. Hall's treatment is used and heartily indorsed by leading clergymen, physicians, merchants and others all over the United
